Hi Aimee

My new book Sing Me A Secret is out with HeadOfZeus/Aria on May 7th. I really need to get some updated stuff on the website
First of all my bio. I've copied and pasted it here and made corrections/alterations. I'll send this to you now and then get on with deciding what else I'd like to be added somewhere.

Julie Houston's first five novels GOODNESS, GRACE AND ME, THE ONE SAVING GRACE, LOOKING FOR LUCY, A VILLAGE AFFAIR, and COMING HOME TO HOLLY CLOSE Amazon Humour #1 best sellers both here in the UK and Australia. LOOKING FOR LUCY hit the #1 best seller overall in Australia and A VILLAGE AFFAIR was the seventh most dc 2019 in the UK, selling over 125 000 copies to date.

SING ME A SECRET will be published on May 7th 2020 and A VILLAGE VACANCY on October 22nd 2020.

Julie lives in Huddersfield, West Yorkshire where her novels are set, and her only claims to fame are that she teaches part-time at 'Bridget Jones' author Helen Fielding's old junior s neighbour is 'Chocolat' author, Joanne Harris. After University, where she studied Education and English Literature, she taught for many years as a junior school teacher. As a newly broke and paying off her first mortgage, she would spend every long summer holiday working on different Kibbutzim in Israel. After teaching for a few years she decided to go to New Zealand taught in Auckland for a year before coming back to this country. She now teaches just two days a week, and still loves the buzz of teaching junior-aged children. She has been a mum for twenty years, and, when not distracted by Ebay, Twitter and Ancestry, spends much of her time writing. Julie is married, has a twenty-six-year-old son and twenty-three-year-old daughter. She runs and swims because she's been told it's good for her, but would really prefer a glass of wine, a sun lounger and a jolly good book - preferably with McConaughay in attendance.

She hates skiing, gets sick on boats and wouldn't go pot-holing or paddy diving if her life depended on it.

She is published by HeadOfZeus/Aria and represented by Anne Williams at KHLA Literary agency.

You can contact Julie via the contact page, on Twitter or on Facebook.
